

HUESTON HENNIGAN

Joseph Aronsohn
Associate

213.788.4375

jaronsohn@hueston.com

Education

Stanford Law School (J.D., 2018)

The University of Chicago (B.A, 2015, Political Science) Honors

Clerkships

Hon. Rebecca R. Pallmeyer,
U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois

Admissions

California
New York

Joseph Aronsohn represents clients in high-stakes cases involving complex commercial disputes, government investigations, and white collar criminal prosecutions.

Prior to joining Hueston Hennigan, Mr. Aronsohn was an associate at Boies Schiller Flexner LLP in New York City, where he litigated prominent cases on both the plaintiff and defense side involving allegations of securities fraud, antitrust violations, breaches of contract, and breaches of fiduciary duty.

During law school, Mr. Aronsohn served as associate managing editor of the Stanford Law Review. He interned in the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York and the Civil Fraud Section of the United States Department of Justice. He graduated with high pro bono distinction and earned the Gerald Gunther Prize for Outstanding Performance in Federal Courts.

Experience

Successfully settled a suit brought by Palantir Technologies against a former early investor alleging breach of contract, misappropriation of trade secrets, and other wrongful conduct after defeating a motion for summary judgment.

Obtained complete defense verdict for ClearOne Inc. in trial against Shure Incorporated involving design patent for beamforming microphone arrays that the jury found to be not infringed and invalid. (See “Jury Says Microphone Co. Shure’s Patent Invalid After Trial,” Law360).

Successfully settled a breach of contract and fraud case with claimed damages in excess of $75 million on behalf of a private equity fund.

Representing Medtronic in a patent infringement lawsuit concerning medical device technology.

Representing the co-founder of a dental alignment start-up company in a dispute over the proceeds from the company’s billion-dollar sale.

Represented biotech firm Sorrento Therapeutics in an arbitration involving breach of contract and tort claims relating to exclusive license agreements for monoclonal antibodies.

Represented an international sportswear company in connection with a third party’s criminal prosecution for extortion and fraud.

Represented an international ride-sharing company defending a federal antitrust action.

Represented an asset manager in a shareholder dispute involving a multinational telecommunications corporation.

Represented, pro bono, an individual appealing a nine-year sentence for first-degree robbery.

Recognitions

Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch