

Nicholas Kellum
Associate

212.715.1122
nkellum@hueston.com

---

Education

Harvard Law School (J.D., 2021) honors
University of Kansas (B.A., 2014, Global and International Studies and Arabic Language) summa cum laude

Clerkships

Hon. Duane Benton, U.S.
Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit

Admissions

New York

---

Nicholas Kellum focuses his practice on high-stakes business disputes, complex litigation, appeals, and white collar investigations.

Prior to joining Hueston Hennigan, Mr. Kellum was an associate at Davis Polk & Wardwell in the Mergers and Acquisitions Group.

While in law school, Mr. Kellum served as the articles editor for the Harvard International Law Journal and the senior editor for the Harvard National Security Journal. He was a research assistant for the former CIA Chief of Counterterrorism Bernard Hudson at the Belfer Center and a research assistant for Professor Brady, updating the Restatement of Property with the American Law Institute.

Prior to going to law school, Mr. Kellum worked in a covert capacity for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Experience

Representing Amazon.com against a historic FTC lawsuit targeting its Prime Membership (see “F.T.C. Accuses Amazon of Tricking Users Into Subscribing to Prime,” The New York Times; “Amazon Says FTC Prime Subscription Suit Gets Ahead Of Law,” Law360).

Represented Medtronic in a nine-figure patent infringement lawsuit concerning medical device technology. The case resolved on the eve of trial.

Secured dismissal of a defamation action seeking tens of millions of dollars against TCW, a leading global asset management firm.

Achieved a favorable settlement for a technology company in a contract dispute matter.

Representing a global asset management firm in sprawling, multi-million -dollar litigation against a former officer and director that spans multiple state and federal fora.