Stephanie Colorado focuses her practice on high-stakes business disputes, complex litigation, and white collar investigations.

Prior to joining Hueston Hennigan, Ms. Colorado was a litigation associate at Ropes & Gray LLP in the Litigation and Enforcement Group. While at Ropes & Gray, she represented a variety of clients in litigation in state and federal courts as well as in government and internal investigations. She also provided pro bono representation to asylum clients in deportation proceedings.

While in law school, Ms. Colorado served as an author for the Columbia Human Rights Law Review and was a Harlan Fiske Stone and James Kent Scholar. She also served as a legal extern for the Immigration Law Unit at the Legal Aid Society in New York City and a legal intern at the Immigrant and Employee Rights Section of the Civil Rights Division at the U.S. Department of Justice.
